On August 11, 2020, Willis Towers Watson and Aon plc made the following announcement.

ISS and Glass Lewis Recommend Aon and Willis Towers Watson Shareholders Vote “For” Proposed Combination

DUBLIN, Aug. 11, 2020 — Aon plc (NYSE: AON) and Willis Towers Watson Public Limited Company (NASDAQ: WLTW) today announced that they have both received recommendations from Institutional Shareholder Services Inc. (“ISS”) and Glass Lewis & Co. (“Glass Lewis”) to vote in favor of their proposed combination.

In its August 7, 2020 independent report, ISS noted¹, “The strategic rationale is sound and the merger is expected to deliver $800 million of cost synergies and be accretive to both adjusted EPS and free cash flow.”² The ISS report also highlights that, “AON and WLTW have complementary businesses and client bases across geographies and client segments, which may provide the potential for revenue upside.”

In its August 10, 2020 independent report, Glass Lewis noted¹, “We find the proposed merger is strategically and financially compelling and structured in a reasonable manner which impacts an acceptable valuation and ownership split for WLTW shareholders.”

The special meeting of Willis Towers Watson shareholders ordered by the High Court of Ireland and the extraordinary general meetings of the shareholders of both Aon and Willis Towers Watson are scheduled to take place on August 26, 2020. Please refer to the joint proxy statement filed by each of Aon and Willis Towers Watson with the Securities and Exchange Commission on July 8, 2020 for further details on voting and meeting logistics. Aon’s Board of Directors recommends that Aon shareholders vote FOR all proposals at the Aon extraordinary general meeting. Willis Towers Watson’s Board of Directors recommends that WLTW shareholders vote FOR all proposals at each of the Willis Towers Watson court meeting and extraordinary general meeting.

Upon the closing of the combination, Willis Towers Watson shareholders will receive 1.08 Aon shares in exchange for each Willis Towers Watson share they held immediately prior to the closing. The combination is expected to close in the first half of 2021, pending customary regulatory and other closing conditions.

² This statement should not be interpreted to mean that earnings per share of Aon or WTW in the current or any future financial period will necessarily match or be greater than or be less than those for the relevant preceding financial period or any other period. There are various material assumptions underlying the synergies and other cost reduction statements in this communication that may result in the synergies and other cost reductions being materially greater or less than estimated. The estimates should therefore be read in conjunction with the bases and assumptions for the synergy numbers, which are set forth in Appendix I of the announcement of the combination by Aon and WTW on March 9, 2020 pursuant to Rule 2.5 of the Irish Takeover Rules (the “Rule 2.5 Announcement”). The synergies and other cost reductions have been reported on in accordance with Rule 19.3(b) of the Irish Takeover Rules by each of Ernst & Young LLP and Credit Suisse International. Copies of their respective reports are included in the Rule 2.5 Announcement. The synergies estimates exclude any potential revenue synergies. None of the synergies or other cost reductions statements, or the earnings per share or cash flow accretion statements, should be construed as a profit forecast or interpreted to mean that the profits or earnings of Aon or WTW in the first full year following the combination, or in any subsequent period, will necessarily match or be greater than or be less than those of Aon or WTW for the relevant preceding financial period or any other period.

Forward-Looking Statements

This communication contains certain statements that are forward-looking, as that term is defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements are prospective in nature and are not based on historical facts, but rather on current expectations of management about future events. Forward-looking statements can often, but not always, be identified by the use of words such as “plans,” “expects,” “is subject to,” “budget,” “scheduled,” “estimates,” “forecasts,” “potential,” “continue,” “intends,” “anticipates,” “believes,” or variations of such words, and statements that certain actions, events or results “may,” “could,” “should,” “would,” “might” or “will” be taken, occur or be achieved.

Although management believe that the expectations reflected in these forward-looking statements are reasonable, it can give no assurance that these expectations will prove to be correct. By their nature, forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that will occur in the future. There are a number of factors that could cause actual results and developments to differ materially from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Such factors include, but are not limited to, the possibility that the proposed combination will not be consummated, failure to obtain necessary shareholder or regulatory approvals or to satisfy any of the other conditions to the proposed combination, adverse effects on the market price of Aon and/or Willis Towers Watson securities and on Aon and/or Willis Towers Watson’s operating results for any reason, including, without limitation, because of the failure to consummate the proposed combination, the failure to realize the expected benefits of the proposed combination (including anticipated revenue and growth synergies), the failure to effectively integrate the combined companies following consummation of the proposed combination, negative effects of an announcement of the proposed combination, changes in global, political, economic, business, competitive, market and regulatory forces, future exchange and interest rates, changes in tax laws, regulations, rates and policies, future business acquisitions or disposals, or any announcement relating to the proposed consummation of or failure to consummate the proposed combination on the market price of Aon and/or Willis Towers Watson securities, significant transaction and integration costs or difficulties in connection with the proposed combination and/or unknown or inestimable liabilities, pending or potential litigation associated with the proposed combination, the potential impact of the announcement or consummation of the proposed combination on relationships, including with suppliers, customers, employees and regulators, and general economic, business and political conditions (including any epidemic, pandemic or disease outbreak) that affect the combined companies following the consummation of the proposed combination.

The factors identified above are not exhaustive. Aon, Willis Towers Watson and their subsidiaries operate in a dynamic business environment in which new risks may emerge frequently. Other unknown or unpredictable factors could also cause actual results and developments to differ materially from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements should therefore be construed in the light of such factors. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on any forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date made.

Further information concerning Aon and its businesses, including economic, competitive, governmental, regulatory, technological and other factors that could materially affect Aon's results of operations and financial condition, is contained in Aon's filings with the SEC. The directors of Aon accept responsibility for the information contained in this communication relating to Aon and the directors of Aon and members of their immediate families, related trusts and persons connected with them. To the best of the knowledge and belief of the directors of Aon (who have taken all reasonable care to ensure that such is the case), the information contained in this communication for which they accept responsibility is in accordance with the facts and does not omit anything likely to affect the import of such information.

The directors of WTW accept responsibility for the information contained in this communication relating to WTW and the directors of WTW and members of their immediate families, related trusts and persons connected with them. Dealing Disclosure Requirements

Under the provisions of Rule 8.3 of the Irish Takeover Panel Act, 1997, Takeover Rules 2013 (the "Irish Takeover Rules"), if, during an "offer period," any person is, or becomes "interested" (directly or indirectly) in 1 per cent. or more of any class of "relevant securities" of Aon or WTW, all "dealings" in any "relevant securities" of Aon or WTW (including by means of an option in respect of, or a derivative referenced to, any such "relevant securities") must be publicly disclosed by no later than 3.30pm (EDT) in respect of the relevant securities of Aon and WTW on the business day following the date of the relevant transaction. The requirement will continue until this offer period ends. If two or more persons co-operate on the basis of any agreement, either express or tacit, either oral or written, to acquire an interest in relevant securities of Aon or WTW, they will be deemed to be a single person for the purposes of Rule 8.3 of the Irish Takeover Rules. Under the provisions of Rule 8.1 of the Irish Takeover Rules, all dealings in relevant securities of WTW by Aon, or relevant securities of Aon by WTW, or by any party acting in concert with either of them, must also be disclosed by no later than 12 noon (EDT) on the business day following the date of the relevant transaction. Interests in securities arise, in summary, when a person has a long economic exposure, whether conditional or absolute, to changes in the price of securities. In particular, a person will be treated as having an interest by virtue of the ownership or control of securities, or by virtue of any option in respect of, or derivative referenced to, securities. Terms used in this paragraph should be read in light of the meanings given to those terms in the Irish Takeover Rules. If you are in any doubt as to whether or not you are required to disclose dealings under Rule 8 of the Irish Takeover Rules, consult with the Irish Takeover Panel's website at www.irishtakeoverpanel.ie or contact the Irish Takeover Panel by telephone at +353 1 678 9020.
